

Filling out checks for new equipment for the school and other paper work took part of Mr. Shirron's time.

Serving as the assistant superintendent's secretary, Mrs. Miriam Purtle kept Mr. Shirron informed of his day's activities.

New Position Filled By Mr. Bill Shirron

As the size and number of students at PHS increased, new jobs were made available in order to keep the school running efficiently. One of these new jobs was assistant superintendent, filled by Mr. Bill Shirron. Mr. Shirron's job required lots of extra time and patience. He was busy most of the day going to school meetings, helping Mr. Smith, and working on ideas for the new school.
